Clubs are Tramps.

We are under obligations to W. A. Denton, Esq., of Benton, Tenn., for a club of subscribers to the CHRONICLE.

H. L. W. Haulston, Esq., of Jasper, Marion county, has our thanks also for similar favors.

Supreme Court.

There are now six hundred cases on the docket of the Supreme Court at this place. There will probably be one hundred additional cases filed between this and the meeting of the Court in September.

Tennessee Inventions.

The following Tennessee inventors received letters patent during the week ending July 2: Y. Bashor, Johnson City, machine for packing flour; J. W. Phellis, Humboldt, Cultivator; J. G. Menier, Nashville, Cultivator Plow; W. J. Beach, Nashville, Railroad Spittoon; W. E. Scott, Knoxville, Shelving for stores.

H. C. Tarwater.

We call attention to the announcement of Mr. Tarwater, as a candidate for Clerk of the Criminal Court. He is too well known to require an extended notice from us. During the war he served as a soldier in the Union army, as a result of which he now walks on an artificial leg. He is entirely capable of performing the duties of the office with satisfaction to the people.

A Bad Habit.

A great many persons are guilty of indulging in the habit of leaving public places, while the meeting or services are in progress, in a regular "tramp, tramp" style, resembling the march of cavalry crossing a bridge, greatly to the annoyance of those present. If they are compelled to go out, courtesy demands that they should do so in as quiet a manner as possible.

W. P. Washburn, Esq.

As will be seen from the announcement, published elsewhere, this gentleman is a candidate for the position of Judge of the Criminal Court for Knox county. It has been our lot to differ with Mr. Washburn politically, but we say without qualification, that he is an able and experienced lawyer, an honest, high-minded gentleman, and would make an upright and faithful Judge.

Exports.

From the examination of the report of the Special Commissioner of Revenue, we make the following extracts:

In 1868-69, the value of provisions and leaf tobacco exported, amounted to $115,242,890.

The value of wheat and flour exported for the same time, aggregated $100,526,368.

Charles H. Flournoy.

Mr. Flournoy is announced, in another column, as a candidate for Clerk of the Criminal Court of Knox county. He has been here since the war, engaged in prosecuting claims in this city. During the war he served as a soldier in the Federal army. In politics he is a Democrat. He, if elected, is entirely capable of discharging the duties of the office.

Col. Pete Turney.

We call attention to the announcement of this gentleman in another column. He aspires to a position on the Supreme bench. Col. Turney is a man of fine legal attainments and of unequivocal position in politics. He was one of the first to take arms for the Southern Confederacy in the late struggle, and when the war was over, was one of the first to return his allegiance to the government. He is now, as he always has been, an ardent Democrat.

The Court House and Post Office Building.

By reference to our dispatches, it will be seen that a bill passed the lower House in Congress, yesterday, providing for the completion of the Court House and Post Office building here. We cannot tell what the amount is from the brief dispatch, but presume it is ample. Some of our citizens have been skeptical on this subject, and could not be induced to believe that such an enterprise would ever be undertaken. Others have hoped that it would be.

The Chancery Judgeship.

Is there a single lover of law and freedom in this Chancery District who will vote for Judge Temple?—Press and Herald.

Well, now, you bet there is. Thousands of them, in fact. Enough to triumphantly elect him, as that journal will find when the votes are counted after the election is over, unless the Judge should be Ku Kluxed before that time. It don't pay to berate honest men for complying with the law.

J. F. J. Lewis.

This gentleman announces himself this morning as a candidate for Judge of the Criminal Court of Knox county. Without endorsing him politically, a life-long acquaintance with J. F. Lewis enables us to endorse him as a high-toned gentleman, who possesses in no small degree the power to make himself agreeable towards every one. He is a lawyer of no mean ability, and is capable of discharging the duties devolving upon one in the important position which he seeks.

The Cost of Iron.

The Commissioner of Revenue makes the following statements concerning one of the leading industries of the whole country: "The average expenditure requisite to produce a ton of pig iron in the United States at the present time, including a liberal interest upon the capital invested and a fair allowance for repairs and incidentals, may be fairly estimated at from $24 to $26, currency; and as confirmatory of this estimate, the Commissioner submits the following evidence: In a letter under date of September 2, 1869, Mr. George T. Lewis, of Clarksville, Tennessee, who is endorsed as one of the most intelligent and experienced iron manufacturers of the Southwest, says: 'On the line of the Nashville and Chattanooga Railroad, pig iron can be made and delivered in Nashville at a cost of $19 per ton, currency. In the city of Nashville itself Mr. Lewis states the present cost, including interest on capital and incidentals, at $22.00, currency, per ton. At Carbondale, Missouri, Mr. S. Waterhouse, of St. Louis, in a letter under date of February 20, 1869, states the cost of pig iron, including an allowance of $1.50 per ton for interest, taxes, and insurance, at $25, currency, per ton; and adds, this is not an estimate, but an exhibit copied from the books of the company.'"

The Cataract Washing Machine.

Gay street, in the neighborhood of Mabry, Turner & Co.'s, was thronged with an excited crowd observing the working of the Cataract Washing Machine, by Mr. A. J. Conway. It is very rapid in its movements. Mr. C. washed three shirts and a towel in four minutes, and could have washed as many more pieces. The capacity is twenty-five gallons, and being flat-bottomed, can be used on any cooking stove, though the machine could be made any size. It was exhibited last year at the Indiana State fair, and took the first premium over thirty-two competitors. Twenty thousand are now in use in Missouri. Mr. Conway will exhibit his machine at the houses of our citizens when requested. He is, also, agent for Bruce's Lever Churn. These machines are great labor savers and should be generally introduced. State and county rights disposed of to suit purchasers.

M. L. Hall.

Elsewhere, we publish a call upon this gentleman to become a candidate for Judge of the Criminal Court of Knox county, together with his reply. For us to attempt to say anything that would add to Mr. Hall's standing before the people, would be a work of supererogation. He is universally known and as universally esteemed. His ability is fully recognized. He is one of the strongest men before the people to be found in our county. The call upon him was in circulation but a few minutes, and a thousand names could just as easily have been procured as not. The wish, among the country people, seemed to be spontaneous in favor of his making the race. Honest, obliging, impartial and capable, he is certainly the choice of the people of Knox county for the responsible position he seeks.

The Wheat Crop.

The wheat crop in East Tennessee is now harvested, and the yield exceeds that of any crop since the war. We hear complaints from some quarters that the heads did not fill well, by reason of the wet weather. In fact, from all we have been able to gather on the subject, late wheat generally has felt behind, but with all this, the crop is a bountiful one.

The highest price we have heard offered for new wheat in this market is $1 per bushel. We are inclined to the belief that this will be the ruling price for some time to come. Even at that price, if all our surplus wheat is put on the market, it brings a large sum of money into East Tennessee, and materially benefits business of all kinds.

Ungrateful.

The Whig doesn't properly appreciate the efforts of the managing editor of the Press and Herald on Monday last. He was the guiding spirit of the whole affair. He started the ball in motion at the convention, and then sent his avowed couriers to the speaking ground, who promised his speedy arrival, and when he came, the brass band was stirred up, which held the crowd together until the arrival of the speakers.

The editor of the Herald introduced the introducer, and in fact, made himself useful as well as ornamental. Had it not been for his efforts, the demonstration would have been a complete failure. We are reminded of the nursery rhyme that

"It is a painful sight
For children of one family to fall out and scratch and fight."

However, it's "none of our funeral," so we shan't cry, nor become compromised in "family broils."

An Interview Between a Doctor and his Patient.

Three months ago Mr. James Henry Redding, of 509 Grove street, New York, was, as he supposed, not far from death's door. His physician—considered a skillful one—had given him up, pronouncing his complaint atrophy. He was fearfully wasted and debilitated, had a constant pain in his right side, ate scarcely enough to keep a baby alive, and was much depressed in spirits. At this juncture, a clerk in the establishment where he had been employed, persuaded him to try a course of Plantation Bitters. Last week he returned to business, his health being quite restored.

The other day on his way home, he met the physician who attended him, when the following conversation occurred: "What!" said the doctor; "is this you?" "Even so," replied Mr. Redding, quietly; "You're not sorry to find yourself a false prophet, I hope?" "No, no; certainly not. But it's a miracle. How was it, my dear fellow? how was it?" Mr. R. told him the story of his recovery, (ascribing it wholly to the Bitters), and is willing to confirm it verbally or by letter whenever applied to.

The new food-source, Sea Moss Parine, is becoming very popular with all classes. As a table-desert, it is the cheapest and most delicious in the world.

Dr. C. W. Crozier.

Dr. Crozier is announced as a candidate for Clerk of the Criminal Court. He is one of our oldest citizens. Nothing we could say would add a whit to his reputation. His capacity to fill the position will not be questioned. He has a large circle of friends, who will give him a cordial support.

Hot Weather.

We don't profess to be weatherwise or otherwise, but will risk a few suggestions on the subject. Keep on the shady side and be temperate if you would avoid sunstroke. Cases of sunstroke are numerous. All the large cities report deaths daily from this cause. There are certain very simple rules by the careful observance of which sunstrokes may be prevented. The use of stimulating liquors should always be avoided, for they serve to weaken rather than induce strength, only very temporarily. Iced water or other drinks cooled with ice should not be used. A little iced water mixed with that from the cistern or spring is very good; but no one should drink too much water, but rather suffer a little from thirst than run the great risks of free indulgence, which are many, and include bowel complaints and other affections, which are dangerous. Men exposed to the sun while at work should never forget, when the weather is hot, to dip handkerchiefs in water and put them in their hats. This will abate thirst and keep the system cool. A bunch of green leaves or grass, where water is not readily at hand, will suit almost as well. Sunstroke, when it does not result in death, leaves the brain always in a highly irritable condition, and renders persons who have always been affected peculiarly liable to the recurrence of attacks.

The Greenville National Union is exercised at a rumor of the existence of a firm in that village—"McCampbell & Co."—who have issued circulars for the sale of licentious books and articles.

The Whig is disgusted at the manner in which the Conservative party is acting under its present leaders. So it was under its former managers. "The scent of the roses hang round it still."

London High School.

The first session of this school will be opened on the first Monday of September next, under an efficient corps of teachers.

Liberal rates of tuition will be adopted, and boarding and general accommodations for students will be furnished in London, at reasonable rates, to all desiring to attend the school.

It will be a "mixed school," for the education of students of both sexes. It will be controlled by the East Tennessee Synod of the C. P. Church, but no teachings of a sectarian tendency will be encouraged or tolerated.

We invite all young ladies and gentlemen desiring a good education to begin with the first session, promising them first-class accommodations, as we are determined to make this a first-class institution of learning.

Southern Wheat Trade.

We are permitted to make the following extracts from the circular of Wm. H. Little & Co., commission merchants, New York, which we publish for the benefit of our farming friends: "The receipts of Southern wheat the past year have been larger than for any year since the war; but though the area of wheat cultivation has been extended in the Carolina, Georgia and Northern Alabama, the aggregate receipts from the whole Southern wheat region—extending through Tennessee, Kentucky and the southern parts of Indiana and Illinois—are yet far behind the annual average down to 1861.

"There is in transit from California less than 20,000 bushels, and though the crop in that State is believed to be a fair one, it is not expected that much of it can reach here before January, 1871.

"Present quotations are for old wheat—White Southern, $1.70@1.80; Amber, $1.60@1.75. "Southern wheat being mostly consumed here, are only remotely affected by the export trade, but we anticipate a more active trade and better prices than we had last year.

"Of Southern flour the receipts have largely increased, mainly from Tennessee—the best White wheat flour have as heretofore been the most remunerative to millers."

The rolling mill at Chattanooga was put in successful operation on the 7th instant, after having been suspended about two years. With a single exception the old force is employed.

Col. John B. Brownlow also returned at the same time.

Seed Wheat.

We were shown yesterday by Messrs. Hough & Church, a sample of the Tappanhook wheat. The grains were white, full and large, and is a prolific variety.
